Call for Trade Lab Fellows

Calling All Alumni!

We are looking for a few talented and dedicated TradeLab alumni who would be willing to donate a few hours per week to assist our clinics, particularly those in developing countries. TradeLab Fellows would help students with legal research and writing skills and provide valuable support and mentoring.

Duties:

- TradeLab Fellows would be asked to donate a maximum of 2-5 hours per week, depending on demand, assisting clinic students in legal writing style and structure, researching, and proofreading project drafts.
- Fellows could also coordinate and run cross-clinic writing workshops.

Opportunities:

- TradeLab does not have the resources to pay fellows but TradeLab Fellows will be featured on the TradeLab website and other publications with individual profiles, and get the opportunity to interact with and learn from experts and students in the TradeLab network.
- You can meet and network with other TradeLab alumni.
- Your help and giving back to the TradeLab community, like so many other mentors have done in the past, would be much appreciated!

Interested?

- Please send a short statement of interest and CV to the TradeLab Coordinator, Lauren Robbins, at coordinator@tradelab.org

- Deadline: September 14th
